Aspen Grove, Inc. Launches Aspen iListing

Aspen Grove, Inc. is pleased to announce the release of Aspen iListing™ on <http://www.AspenListing.com>

Cascade, MD May 27th, 2009 – Aspen Grove has released its online search portal for REO and short sale property listings. It is a free additional service for all iAgent users which applies to all properties listed in iAgent. Agents can now elect to list their properties in a publically accessible online web site where buyers and buyer's agents can register to submit offers. These offers automatically become part of the iAgent workflow and agents are immediately tasked when an offer is received. Additionally, agents can set up automatic email notifications for when an offer is received via iListing. Property listing web links (URLs) are made available to be put directly into MLS systems or Agent web sites so that MLS and web site browsers can then reach the full property details available in iListing. By simply registering, buyers can request to receive emails alerts when properties are listed which match their search criteria.

CEO Sean Ryan had this to say about Aspen Grove's latest development: "The competition in the REO technology space is heating up with lots of choices for Agents. Aspen Grove is the only solution provider providing Asset Management solutions fully integrated to an Agent system – Aspen iAgent™ - which allow the Agents to enhance their own management capabilities via their own rules and tasks. Through Aspen iListing we are making property listings available with a simple MLS URL link as well as allowing 3rd parties to search for properties and submit offers directly online. These enhancements and our ongoing development of our services are part of our drive to deliver the best possible Agent REO solutions in the market place."
