Aspen Grove, Inc. Releases Aspen iAgent Version 2.0

Aspen Grove, Inc. is pleased to announce the newest release of its REO Management Software, iAgent V 2.0

St. Charles, MO September 15th, 2008 – After months of significant development and testing, Aspen iAgent has gone live with Version 2.0. This will be the first of many significant updates introduced to iAgent over the coming year. Aspen Grove's goal is to make iAgent the most extensive property management system on the market.

The main features of Aspen iAgent 2.0 include changes to the billing structure, the introduction of Business Rules for Organizations, User Interface changes to increase system usability, a Listing Portal, and other enhancements which are outlined below.

iAgent billing structure is currently working on a per user basis. After much cost-analysis, Aspen has decided to move its business model over to a per property arrangement. The first 50 properties in any year will be invoiced at $34.95 per property and $24.95 per property thereafter. There will be no limit on the number of internal users and there is no charge for BPO only properties.

New business rules have been introduced allowing you to automate significant work orders within the system and maintain specific settings for all of your clients individually. Additionally, a new feature is now available within iAgent that will allow you to make all properties whose status is 'Listed' available for public viewing via a web address.

Additional features incorporated into Aspen iAgent V2.0 include a Title Module, Messaging Module, Photo printing formatting, and more available submission of expense details for each property. All of these enhancements are a direct result of user feedback; Aspen Grove prides itself on excellent customer relations and communication.
